Madison police were instrumental in locating a 27-year-old Granite City man suspected of robbing the Crown Finance and Loan Co. on Grand avenue, St. Louis, at 2:15 p.m. June 9. He was turned over to St. Louis police after voluntarily waiving extradition Thursday evening.

Asked by St. Louis police June 10 to check on a license registration, the Madison department contacted the man's relatives and learned he had gone to Stuart county, Tenn., to visit other relatives. Reached at Route One, Dover, Tenn., by his family here, he agreed to return voluntarily and appeared at the Madison police station at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Before being released to St. Louis authorities, the man orally admitted the holdup, police said. Married and the father of two small children, he said he became despondent because of being unemployed.

He related obtaining between $900 and $1000 and using it to buy clothing, repair his car and buy another car. Reporting that he used an unloaded .22-caliber blank pistol purchased for $5.95 in an East St. Louis pawn shop, he said he threw it into Long Lake at Pontoon Beach after the robbery.

The man has no previous police record. He had $40 left from the loot at the time of his arrest.

Tax Injunction Suit Motions Taken Under Advisement

After hearing argument of opposing counsel for two hours on Thursday afternoon at Edwardsville, Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark took under advisement depositions taken by the plaintiffs in support of their injunction suit. As urged by Daly, the court announced it would not rule solely on oral argument presented Thursday, reserving a decision until after study of written briefs was submitted.

One of the motions heard Thursday afternoon, filed by State's Atty. Dick H. Mudge Jr. and argued by his assistant, Joseph Bartylak, contended Daly's suit should be dismissed because it was "filed too late" and the county clerk was not named a defendant until after she had completed all tax extensions.

East Alton attorney and Republican candidate for state's attorney, and Roger J. Elbe of Wood River, they are permitted to intervene as co-plaintiffs with Daly in support of their injunction suit. As urged by Daly, the court announced it would not rule solely on oral argument presented Thursday, reserving a decision until after study of written briefs was submitted.

Pulley said other public meetings are being held in the Edwardsville, Alton, Wood River, Highland and Collinsville areas to stress the need for a county health department to cope with the growing health problems in an area with expanding population. ## Lack of Suitable Sites Problem For Home Builders

(This is the second of a series of three articles written by M. Freeman Wolfe, local contractor and president of the Home Builders Association of Southern Illinois, to outline the problems of planning and community growth. Wolfe said he recently attended a national and state meeting to obtain the material presented in the articles.)

"Planning is for people; so is housing. Projections for the years ahead on the housing need and market have been made. The figures indicate that nationally a minimum of some 12 million units are needed between 1959-65; from 1966-75 some 10 million.

"These figures make no allowance for any improvement in the way our people are housed. We will run into major problems in providing this housing unless we begin now to take steps toward solving the problems.

"If we face up to the problems of the future with the same wisdom our people have faced up to other crises in the past, we can find solutions. But we cannot find solutions unless all the resources in the community are mobilized to this end.

"In the first post-war period, the home building industry produced about 11 million houses, using up about three million acres of land, an area about as large as all of Connecticut.

In the process, the industry has run out of usable vacant land and became confronted with new problems which are going to inhibit our growth and the kind of contribution the building industry can make to the national well-being. Now, the really sensational growth is ahead of us.

"Concerning this problem, I'd like to make three specific points:

"1. The home building industry is not the creator of this problem.

"2. Responsible home builders and their leaders and their trade associations are aware of the problem.

"3. Responsible leaders in the home building industry are assisting in every way possible with all planning groups seeking an orderly America.

"Let the Home Builders Association be one of the affiliates of the National Association of Home Builders which has its headquarters in Washington, D. C. The NAHB has some 44,000 members around the country.

"Within the NAHB are many departments specializing in particular problems — two of these are Community Facilities and Urban Renewal.

"The successes and failures of home builders around the country are funneled into NAHB for study and inspection. The failures are dissected and advice given on how to rectify them.

"The successes are passed on to other local affiliates for their guidance. The NAHB, with the assistance of its local affiliates such as ours, has undertaken studies in conjunction with private groups on how best to use and develop available land.

"The purpose of course, is to provide the homes that American wants and at prices modern families can afford.

"It is a mistake to regard builders as being opposed to good planning. They have been in the forefront of this fight for good planning for years. It's trade association is a symbol of that planning.

"The home building industry is keenly aware of the problems ahead, not only for builders, but for communities and home buying families.

"These are problems for all citizens of our community. After all, the home builders is your neighbor, too.

Miss Phyllis Day Becomes Bride Of Elvin L. James

In a candlelight service Friday evening at Tri-City Park Tabernacle, Miss Phyllis Day, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Day, 708 Twenty-seventh Place, became the bride of Elvin L. James, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elvin O. James, 1208 Meridian street.

Bouquets of white pom poms and foliage decorated the sanctuary, lighted with candles at the altar and in the main aisle. Rev. R. D. Shaw officiated at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an imported Chantilly lace gown, cinched at the waist. The sash, neckline and train were held in place by sequins and pearls and the fitted bodice featured long sleeves with traditional points over the hands. A very bouffant skirt, detailed throughout with cascading tiers of lace ruffles which flowed to the hemline in front and formed a voluminous cathedral-length train, was held wide with a hoop. A matching jeweled coronet was attached to a fingertip veil of imported French illusion. Applique motifs were scattered throughout the veil and the bride carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with a white cymidium corsage.

Miss Jane Schofield, maid of honor, and Mrs. Shelley Jones, bridesmaid, wore gowns of pink and apple green pin-dotted tulle. They were floor length with ha-teau necklines and the fitted bodices had cap sleeves. The skirts, over hoops, were detailed in the center back with bustle puffs. Miss Schofield carried white daisies and green pom poms, while Mrs. Jones held a basket of daisies and pink pom poms.

Two candlelighters, Miss Judy Grindstaff and Miss Becky Shaw, were dressed like the attendants, in pink and green.

Allen Green and Pamela James, cousins of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer and flower girl. The latter carried a basket of daisies and pom poms.

Rucker Arnold served Mrs. James as best man, and Norman Peek was groomsman. David Schofield and Gerald Day served as ushers.

A program of wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Mary Hudson, vocalist, with Miss Delores Nickles at the piano.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Day selected a dress of navy blue and white lace and matching accessories. Mrs. James wore frosted blue and pink accessories. Both had pink carnation corsages.

A reception was held at the YMCA after the service. When they return from a honeymoon at 2617a Washington avenue.

The former Miss Day is employed by the Missouri-Pacific Railroad. Her husband is an IBM programmer for Engineering Supply Company in St. Louis.

Miss Nancy Lee Wilson And Ward T. Adams Are Wed

Miss Nancy Lee Wilson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Wilson, 330 S. Ninth street, Rosewood Heights, Ill., formerly Granite City, became the bride of Ward Thomas Adams, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward T. Adams, 1111 Wood River, organist at the Wood River Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Rev. A. Ralph Lynn, another former Granite Cityan and retired minister of First Presbyterian Church here, heard the vows of the couple at three o'clock.

Bouquets of white gladioli together with woodwardia fern decorated the sanctuary, lighted with candles in seven-branched candelabra, and swags of white daisies marked the sections reserved for the families.

Mr. Wilson escorted his daughter down the aisle and gave her in marriage. Her gown of ivory peplu de sole was fashioned with a moded bodice, a wide scoop neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. Further details featured a bustle back trimmed with appliques of lace terminating in a chapel train. A veil of bridal illusion was secured to a half hat of Alencon lace and the only ornament worn was a single strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift.

The bride, who was reared here, graduated from the Granite City high school and the University of Illinois with highest honors in Elementary Education. She was president of Pi Beta Phi sorority. She will teach the second grade in Princess Anne County, Va., next year.

After graduating from the Washington, Ill. high school, Mr. Adams entered the University of Illinois where he graduated with a degree in Political Science and was commissioned an ensign in the U. S. Navy. He will serve two years active duty at Norfolk, Va., where he will reside for two years while Mr. Adams is in the Navy. They will be at home after June 30.

PLAN PARK PICNIC

Mrs. Martha Stanfill entertained the Vota Vita Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church in her home, 1513 Market street, Thursday evening. The devotion for the month was on "Friendship."

After the topic was read and discussed by Mrs. Doris Hargrave, each member discussed close friendships and the meaning of true friendship.

The teacher of the class, Mrs. Estelle Barthe, presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Glenda Oshun. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Barthe, after which plans were made for a picnic to be held at Wilson Park on July 16 at 3 p.m. for members of the class and their families.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. Pauline Finkler, Mrs. Colleen Schmitt, Mrs. daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Hunsaker, Mrs. Mary Lassen, Mrs. Mary Link, Mrs. Barthe and Mrs. Hargrave.

CLASS DINNER

A pot luck dinner was held during the noon hour Thursday at the First Baptist Church by members of the Dorcas Sunday school class of the church. The meeting was held in the educational building.

Mrs. Mary Schuetz, president, presided over the meeting at which time Mrs. Naomi Chunn was presented with a gift from the class. She is planning to move in the near future to Coulterville, Ill.

The next meeting will be held in July at the church.

Those taking part in the dinner were Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth McDaniel and granddaughter, Carroll Collier, Mrs. Nellie Pollock, Mrs. Naomi Chunn, Mrs. Cora Little, Mrs. Della Rogers, Mrs. Chloe Maxon, Mrs. Sadie Conway and granddaughter, Pamela Dierkes, Mrs. Eda Schumacher, Mrs. Gertrude Brown, Mrs. Minnie Perry and Mrs. Della Garrett.

Games were played and gifts were opened.

A baseball program accommodating 240 boys aged seven to 15 is being operated this summer in the third year of the Madison Lions Khoury Baseball Leagues, and a lack of team managers is the only deterrent to forming still more teams. Emmett Piaz, one of the league's founders, told Madison Rotarians last week. The Rotary club sponsors one of the 16 teams.

Piaz said more boys have expressed a desire to participate, and added that the program has proven successful in keeping boys busy and out of mischief. A Madison police sergeant, he said only a slight percentage of the players ever require counseling or arrest by the police.

Piaz said over $6000 was spent, including some funds for uniforms, by the Lions and other clubs and businesses in establishing the leagues in 1958. While yearly costs include $1000 for baseballs, $450 for bats, $300 for umpires and $250 for insurance, the program is well worth the cost in its value to young men, he asserted.

Scout Jamboree Planning Was Begun Last December

Planning and preparation for the fifth international Boy Scout Jamboree, which takes place next month near the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., is a mammoth task, Eugene Coe, Unihah Boy Scout district executive, told members of the Daybreak Optimist Club Saturday morning at the YMCA.

It involved the laying out of a 38-block "city" on a site covering 2000 acres which will be home for a week to more than 55,000 Boy Scouts and their leaders from 38 countries.

Work on the campsite was begun last December, Coe said, and progressed slowly at first due to the extremely bitter winter weather. Included was the laying of 16 miles of water lines, eight of them from Colorado Springs to the camp, and another eight miles within the camp itself.

Each of the blocks within the camp will compose a sectional camp, Coe continued. Each section is equipped with a dispensary and kitchen facilities, while the area itself will include two complete field hospitals staffed with doctors.

Since virtually every religion in existence will be represented at the Jamboree, provisions to conduct worship services for each also have been made, the Scout executive explained.

Food handling and preparation poses a tremendous problem, he added. Nine million paper plates have been ordered, and food will be cooked over the campfires, no less than 1300 beef cattle will be slaughtered and butchered, while Boy Scouts are expected to consume 75,000 quarts of milk in the one week.

The Jamboree gathering will be governed by the Boy Scout oath and laws, Coe said. Its main purpose is to promote understanding and friendship among Scouts the world over.

Fireworks Worth $1100 Confiscated By Police

Granite City police are checking with the FBI for a possible violation of federal laws in connection with an arrest Friday of a man with $1100 worth of fireworks in a panel truck.

A problem of safe storage of the confiscated explosives also faces the department. Chief of Detectives James R. Lowder said the items probably will be stored in one of the vaults at the city hall until such time as a decision is made on whether they are to be destroyed.

A $100 fine was imposed on John Kibbons, 25, of Phillipsburg, Kan., who was arrested while selling fireworks to sters in the vicinity of Wilson Park on Friday afternoon. He pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal possession of fireworks on a state warrant filed by Chief Lowder.

Police said he was selling the fireworks from his truck.

First Commencement A History-Making Event At Campus Of New University

History was made last week as Southern Illinois University conducted the first commencement exercises of its Southwest Illinois campus. The task ahead was symbolized by holding the ceremony outdoors on part of the 1400-acre tract between the Quad-Cities and Edwardsville purchased by Madison and St. Clair county residents for use by the state in establishing a new university.

There are no classroom buildings on the new site, but someday there will be buildings, students, professors and a busy whirl of campus activity. The future was foreshadowed in commencement remarks by Dr. Robert B. Lynn, chairman of the Southern Illinois Council for Higher Education, who told of the impact of the SIU residence centers in Alton and East St. Louis. Educational, commercial and cultural fields have been favorably affected, and the university staff has helped inject new spirit into civic events and programs.

Gov. Stratton outlined the need for the $195,000,000 university bond issue that is to be voted on in November, with $25,000,000 included for development of the new university, and likened the proposal to a home loan. While most people generally seek to avoid going into debt for regular living costs, they find it necessary to borrow when embarking on a major construction project. The university would tie up some of the state's future revenue, but it would enable an adequate building program to be planned, rather than piecemeal additions from biennial appropriations. Public utility districts usually follow a similar bonding procedure when new buildings are planned.

The bi-partisan nature of the bond issue support again was illustrated at the ceremonies, which were attended by both Gov. Stratton, a Republican, and State Supt. George T. Wilkins, a Democrat. Since each failure to mark a bond issue ballot would count as a "No" vote, possibly the first election in which support will be needed in November from both parties and from all sections of the state.

Higher Buying Level As Quad-Cities Embark On New Decade

Tabulation of buying in the Quad-Cities requires a month for gathering of reports and another month and a half for processing, resulting in some delay in the announcements. But the picture gradually emerges, and the purchasing level for the first three months of 1960 has now been made public.

There were predictions throughout the 1950's that the decade of the '60's would be a golden era of business and residential expansion. While some of the factors expected to bring this reality are not yet having their maximum effect, it is obvious that the new decade is off to an auspicious start.

With buying totaling $4,483,031 in January, $4,576,064 in February and $5,068,426 in March, the past two years have been topped every month. The 1960 first-quarter total of $14,127,521 compares with $13,013,258 at a similar time in 1959 and $11,629,423 in 1958.

While later reports are not yet ready, it is believed that this trend is continuing into the spring and summer. Economically, the community is entering the 1960's in sound condition; if the first year is an indication, the new decade should prove to be a good one for the Quad-Cities.

25 YEARS AGO

The following items were taken from the files of the Granite City Press-Record.

A daily vacation Bible school is being conducted from 9 to 11:30 a.m. every morning except Saturday and Sunday at First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Arthur Bowen, Sunday School Superintendent, is in charge, assisted by a staff of experienced teachers. Classes for all ages will be conducted until Friday, June 30.

The Idle Hour Pinocchio Club met recently with Mrs. Edward Fancher and three tables were occupied, prizes going to Mrs. Nick Volmeyer, Mrs. Stanje Green, Mrs. J. J. Moore, Mrs. August Stude, Mrs. Lester Lenzen and Mrs. Roy Kline.

The sale of Guy automobile licenses was increased last week following a drive by police Tuesday morning through the streets sold, according to the records of City Clerk Edwin Riggs. He said the sales this year are slightly below those of a year ago. The police drive will continue for the next few weeks until all motorists are rounded up.

The second annual Homecoming celebration of Tri-City Post 113, American Legion, ended last night with an estimated attendance for the three days of 10,000. The final day brought nearly 5000 people to the carnival grounds. The colorful parade, one band and 12 drum and bugle corps, both men and girls, featured the celebration yesterday afternoon. There were nearly 500 uniformed participants. In the competition among bands, drum and bugle corps, Alton won starred in college football and basketball, serving as football captain during his senior year. He is a nine letter man and president of the graduating class. He was president of Granite City literary society, in his junior year, and also belongs to Osgood, senior honor society. He was a member of the college band and was outstanding in scholastics.

The team, composed of Harold Kuenfer, Mike Turpenoff and Helen Sadrakus, made an average of five errors. Miss Frances Michel is the commercial instructor.

Advance Preparations Can Enhance Prospects Of Safe Highway Trip

With many Quad-Cityans planning to do extensive highway travel this summer for visits and vacation trips, safety officials are urging advance preparations in the hope that the number of accidents and casualties can be reduced.

First step is to have the family auto checked and serviced, because stalls or mechanical failures can create a serious hazard, particularly if the car remains in a traffic lane or if the stall occurs after dark. The steering mechanism, shock absorbers, motor, cooling system, battery, electrical system and windshield wiper and blades all merit attention. Hoses and fittings should be inspected for leaks, wheels should be aligned, wheels balanced and the tread and condition of all five tires should be checked.

Persons used to city driving must adapt themselves rapidly once they are on high-speed roads. Safety tips include assuming a comfortable driving position, adjusting all mirrors for maximum visibility from this position, taking care to signal turns and stops, halting at intervals and avoiding the building up of fatigue that comes from continuously maintaining one's position and from attempting to cover too much distance in one day.

Motorists traveling alone or with a passenger who is napping can avoid becoming "hypnotized" by the road by playing the auto radio. The driver should swing his eyes from side to side, instead of staring straight ahead, and should keep his mind completely off the road at the first sign of drowsiness.

Finally, those who normally take medication should determine whether it has any side effects that may impair driving efficiency, such as drowsiness, slowed reflexes and loss of alertness—an extra degree of alertness can be all-important. Combined with having a safe vehicle and following recommended speeds and motorizing procedures, alertness can help keep summer trips the happy occasions they are meant to be.

Boundary Changes To Result In Less Inconvenience For Voters

With only 11 of the now 28 Granite City township precincts left unchanged after boundary revisions voted by the Madison county board of supervisors last week, the changes are so great that it is difficult to determine at first glance how good a re-districting job was done. Maps are being prepared, and the new precinct numbers will be listed when 1960-64 registration cards are sent out to all voters of the county in August.

Extension of Precincts 20, 23 and 24 is a definite improvement, since residents of newly-annexed areas will be able to cast votes in the same township where they reside and pay taxes. This should do much to end election-day confusion in the neighborhoods bordering the Granite City-Nameki township line.

The resolutions presented to the county board by Supervisor Leonard Oram appear to deal more effectively with the problem of oversize precincts than the revisions originally considered for submission this year. In the case of Granite City Nine, for example, which delayed the determination of some primary election winners for more than 24 hours in April, an entirely new precinct has been created instead of merely diverting some of the 2149 registration list into oversize Precinct Ten.

Addition of four precincts gives the Quad-Cities a total of 46 and Madison county a total of 157. This should result in less inconvenience for voters and faster completion of ballot counting. A logical step for consideration next would be a study of how to make city to township boundaries conform with the boundaries used in township and county voting.

Hundley Carport First Of Kind In Area

Constructed for protection and cleanliness of used cars, and to harbor patrons from the sun, the 36-space carport at Hundley Motors is the first of its kind in the Quad-Cities.

Located at 18th street and Grand avenue, the carport is made of pre-fabricated steel measuring 118 by 40 feet, the structure is white trimmed with red border. The idea for the carport was derived from an automobile magazine.

Walter Hundley said the carport — which will be lighted at night — is the first step in an extensive expansion program. Thomas W. Hundley, son of the owner, is general sales manager and Rupert L. Haneline is used car sales manager.

Club Views Film On Washington Trends

Noonday Optimist Club members viewed a film on the "Kiplinger Letter," which is distributed by a private news-gathering agency in Washington, D. C., and deals with "trends, forecasts and looks behind the scenes" of the various government agencies in the nation's capital during a meeting Thursday at the Elks Club.

The newsletter, as explained in the film, is published to inform the general public as to the activities of government spending agencies, lobbying groups and other organizations fostering or supporting causes which involve governmental spending.

The program was arranged by B. C. "Tip" O'Neill, program chairman. Forty-five members and guests attended.

Finest Total $55

Fines totaling $55 were imposed Thursday afternoon on William Scott, 37, of Rural Route One, who had been arrested last Monday afternoon in the 1700 block of Chestnut street on charges of drunkenness, creating a disturbance, using profanity and resisting arrest. He had pleaded guilty to all charges and the case was taken under advisement by Police Magistrate Gasparovic.

Graduates Advised On Mail-Order Courses

Since June is graduation month, correspondence school salesmen are especially active these days in leading young men and women into fields such as television, air lines, road construction and others. Those graduates and their parents are warned to be especially careful in their selection of correspondence schools, according to the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

Harlan Dobry, manager of the C. C. urges graduates to read and understand thoroughly any contract they might be given before signing. He said that verbal statements mean absolutely nothing and the only thing that counts is the contract. Once they sign, the contract is binding, Dobry said.

Correspondence school salesmen who point to new airmen of the "unlimited opportunities, fabulous salaries, and ideal working conditions" can be guarded against, according to Dobry, if graduates will take time to investigate. The C. C. executive suggests that graduates talk to local personnel managers and other officers of local correspondence schools. Dobry explained. He said the schools should furnish such names to

COUNTY TAXPAYERS GROUP PRAISES MAYOR DAVIS
Mayor Leonard R. Davis, Pres. of the Southern Illinois Council of Mayors, Granite City, Illinois, was praised by the County Taxpayers Association for his leadership in the fight for a fair and equitable tax system.

Subject: Facilities Proposal By Public Administration and Metropolitan Affairs Program of Southern Illinois University.

Gentlemen: The Madison County Taxpayers Association is a county-wide organization interested in the preservation of the high standards of our American Democracy. It takes the opportunity of this communication in order to commend you on your recent action pertaining to the facilities proposal offered by the "Public Affairs Council of S.I.U."

Your "stand by" acceptance, appreciatively, of the April 27th proposal by Seymour Z. Mann of the Public Administration and Metropolitan Affairs Program of Southern Illinois University, indicates firm belief in individual independence governmentally. The election of Madison County is indeed fortunate to have such truly great Statesmen for Mayors of the Cities of Madison County, although the Madison County Taxpayers Association does not presume that the intent of the above stated proposal by Southern Illinois University was other than honorable.

With all good wishes,
Sincerely,
MRS. MARGARET TROY,
President Madison County Taxpayers Association.

TEACHER WRITES ON GRADUATION ISSUE
Mr. C. E. Townsend

Granite City, Illinois
Dear Mr. Townsend:

It seems there is a great deal of misinformation going around aimed at trying to put the teachers into as bad a light as possible.

For one thing, we were not going to interfere with graduation even if no agreement had been reached before hand. In fact, we had told the band and other candidates in Friday's election, held in a bus outside the school, that we were going to conduct the music.

In playing on public sentiment let's first be sure we are accurate.

Sincerely,
Lily Monroe Dod

SIXTH STREET VIEW of the future is suggested by this picture, taken after most of the Harris grade school had been razed. The new Harris school, which faces Seventh street, will present this appearance from the south. After the debris in the foreground has been removed, a black-top playground surface is to be applied.

Original Harris School Was Built At Cost of $28,000

Two of the oldest landmarks in the Quad-Cities, the old Harris and Blair school buildings in Madison, will not be around in September. Built at the beginning of the century, both are being razed this summer alongside their glittering successors.

Once the only school for the east end of Madison, the Harris school, 7th street and Alton avenue, was built in 1894 for the grand total of about $28,000. Before razing began this year its replacement value was set at well over a quarter of a million dollars.

A dozen children stood along the sidewalk and applauded as the huge "headache" ball leveled the east wall of the Harris building last week. Boys and girls, with fuller memories of the school, were not so glad to see it go. They remember its beginnings as a four-room, overflowing school which soon needed constant additions. Two rooms were added in 1902, four more in 1907 and two in 1911. Even after that rooms had to be rented at the Presbyterian Mission on Madison avenue to accommodate the burgeoning number of children.

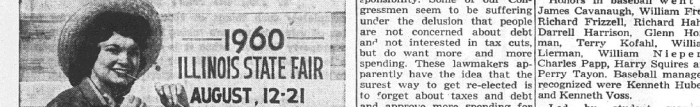

CYCLING BOYS pause to watch the razing of the Harris school building in Madison. A derrick with a "headache ball" is knocking down the walls and trucks are hauling the debris away. While the work was underway last week, hoses were played on the building to hold down the dust.

Awning Catches Fire
Madison firemen were called at 5:50 p.m. Friday to extinguish a burning awning at 415 Madison avenue. The awning apparently caught fire when a passerby tossed a cigarette onto it. The awning is owned by Mrs. Anna Oser and the first floor is rented for storage by Friedman's hardware. There was no damage to the building or contents.
